PREFACE

This catalog of fiction is not intended as a complete list of novels contained in even a small library, nor does it contain all of the most recent fiction; it aims only to comprise the best fiction of all time.

The 2000 books included are entered under both the author's name and title, and brief descriptive or critical sentences are inserted for the twofold purpose of informing and attracting the reader.

The selection has been based upon the following lists of fiction: A Thousand of the Best Novels, compiled by the Newark Free Public Library; fiction of the A. L. A. Catalog of 8,000 Volumes for a Popular Library; fiction entered in the A. L. A. Booklist from the first number to the current number; List of 572 Novels for Adults which are purchased in largest numbers by American libraries, compiled by the Bookbuying Committee of the A. L. A.; fiction of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission's Suggestive List of Books for a Small Library (Part I. Books for Adults, June, 1905); annual lists of Best Books, issued by the New York State Library, for the years 1896-1909, inclusive.
